At-large Council Representative

Ray deWolfe was first elected in 2017 and is now serving his second term as At-Large Councilman and Vice-Chair for the Council. Ray grew up in Midvale, Utah, and has been living in South Salt Lake since 2015. He holds a BS in Communication from Southern Utah University and an MBA from Western Governors University. Prior to serving on the City Council, Ray served as Planning Commissioner for South Salt Lake.

Ray currently works for Mountain America Credit Union, where he is the Assistant Vice President for Employee Experience. Ray also volunteers at the Utah Association for Talent Development, where he serves as Vice President for Talent Development. In his free time, Ray enjoys playing golf and indoor soccer, and drinking the great local craft beer in South Salt Lake.
